

As we move into the Congressional Lame Duck Session - the period after the mid-term elections, but before newly-elected representatives take office for the 116th Congress - our fight to stop postal privatization cannot not slow down. We must continue to advocate for a public Postal Service and keep it from being sold off to the highest bidder.

President Mark Dimondstein and Legislative & Political Director Judy Beard will discuss:

- The current status of the White House's plan to sell the Postal Service to private corporations (privatize the Postal Service)
- The status of House Resolution 993 and Senate Resolution 633, and what to expect from Congress in the lame duck session.
- How members can get involved in upcoming campaign actions.
- Building public support after the successful National Day of Action on Oct. 8.

Some locals will also be sharing various actions they have taken to engage members and the public during the fight against postal privatization.
