Dear Mr. Newman:

On June 8, 1979, we met on the above-captioned case at step four of the contractual grievance procedure set forth in the 1978 National Agreement.

During our discussion we mutually agreed that there is no interpretive dispute between the parties at the National level with respect to the language on holiday scheduling set forth in Article XI of the National Agreement concerning the responsibility of management to determine the numbers and categories (skills) of employees needed for holiday work.

Accordingly, as we further agreed, this case is hereby remanded to step three for further discussion and resolution between the parties at that level.

Please sign the copy of this letter as your acknowledgment of the agreement to remand this case.

Sincerely,

William E. Henry
Acting General Manager
Grievance Division
Labor Relations Department
