Dear Mr. Barnett:

On March 25, 1985, we met to discuss the above-captioned case at the fourth step of our contractual grievance procedure.

The issue in this grievance is whether management properly denied office space to the Pioneer Credit Union.

The facts in this case indicate that the Pioneer Credit Union is a commercial business which is not affiliated with the APWU.

The union contends that management is obligated to provide credit union space in the facility.

It is the position of the Postal Service that the language in Article 36 is clear, "[I]n the event that unions signatory to this agreement . . . presently operate or shall hereafter establish and charter credit unions, the Employer shall, without charge, authorize and, provide space, if available . . . ."

Based upon the above considerations this grievance is denied.

Sincerely,

Muriel Aikens

Dear Mr. Wilson:

On November 10, 1983, we met to discuss the above-captioned grievance at the fourth step of our contractual grievance procedure.

The question raised in this grievance is whether the grievant has been improperly required to use his privately-owned auto for travel between stations to complete the duties of his assignment.

During our discussion, we agreed that the Postal Service does not require as a condition for bidding that a clerical employee use his/her privately-owned automobile to perform official duties.

Accordingly, we agreed to remand this case to Step 3 for application of the above to the fact circumstances involved.

Please sign and return the enclosed copy of this letter as your acknowledgment of agreement to remand this case.

Sincerely,

Margaret H. Oliver
