

Letter to the Editor

Dear

Postal workers take pride in providing prompt, dependable mail service to . We are sworn public servants who uphold the sanctity of the mail. We believe the people are entitled to public, prompt postal services. This is why we are so concerned about the Postal Service's plan to shift mail processing operations away from our community.

Unfortunately, this "consolidation" plan will result in slower, less reliable first-class mail service for the citizens of . First class mail, checks, bills, and payments may not arrive on time, and local mail will have delayed delivery, take longer to arrive, and longer to be delivered. Local businesses will be hurt and jobs in our community will be lost.

The Postal Service claims this consolidation will "improve efficiency," but it has yet to prove that their plan actually will save money and resources, in fact when they cut before in 2015 it did not lead to any significant savings.

That's why postal workers, community activists, businesses, and other leaders are asking everyone to take a stand against consolidation by contacting Rep. , the and asking them to prevent these plans.

Sincerely,