The 2020 election is quickly approaching and we know that many APWU members are eager to get involved. As postal employees you are required to adhere to the Hatch Act, a Federal law that limits certain political activities of federal workers. Join us on July 22nd for a training where we'll discuss how you can get involved in the 2020 election without violating the Hatch Act.

Topics include:

- * What is the Hatch Act?
- * What political activities can postal workers participate in?
- * What political activity is not permitted on postal property?
- * NEW social media guidelines
